Register your place: A special webinar on 'Regions, cities and Level(s): Powering the green transition in Europe's buildings.'

Dear subscriber,

Register your place: A special webinar on 'Regions, cities and Level(s): Powering the green transition in Europe's buildings.'

It's time to register for the upcoming Level(s) webinar at the European Week of Regions and Cities.

Cities and regions are key players for implementing the green transition to a sustainable built environment. This session will explain how the Level(s) framework can be used as a common language to engage a variety of actors in the building sector and translate broader EU climate and circular economy objectives into building projects within local and regional contexts.
